

Carolina Recycling Association

presents

The Southeast Construction & Demolition Recycling Conference: Opportunities in Greener Building

Where: Sheraton Charlotte Airport Hotel, Charlotte, NC 28208

When: December 7th – 9th, 2010

Construction and Demolition (C&D) recycling is a growing movement and an essential element in green construction. Join us as we explore the impacts and opportunities with this dynamic topic.

Contractors/Architects/Developers: Learn what can be recycled and how to reduce, reuse, and recycle at residential and commercial construction sites – from high-rises to single-family homes. Also learn about building products made from recycled content material.

Local Governments: Learn what other communities are doing, how they're doing it, and what you can do to facilitate more C&D recycling in your community.

C&D Recycling Service Providers: Promote your services to the building community; learn what others are doing and where the industry is headed.

Tours, networking, exhibit hall vendors, keynote speakers, and educational sessions are all part of the program.

Session topics include:

- Commercial and Residential Green Building Programs and C&D Recycling Incentives
- Cost Savings Opportunities: How to Plan for Collection, Recycling and Reuse
- Markets for Recycled Materials
- Regulatory Issues and Government Programs
- Equipment for C&D Processors and Landfill Operators
- Program Promotion and Niche Materials for Recycling
- Design & Build for Disassembly, Rightsizing to Reduce Waste, and Using Locally Recycled Products
