CHILD PIANIST TO ENTERTAIN SENIORS GROUP

HICKORY -- Most 10-year-old boys have little to no interest in classical music. But Logan Wilson is an exception.

The Hickory resident will perform for the West Hickory Seniors Morning Out program at 10 a.m. on June 19. Logan has been taking piano lessons for three years and can already play advanced classical music. He is the son of Mike and Jennifer Wilson and attends Startown Elementary School.

Anyone age 60 or better who lives in Catawba County is invited to hear Logan perform and stay for lunch. However, you must pre-register at least 24 hours in advance by calling Annie Williams, site manager, at 828-323-8746 between 8:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. weekdays.

West Hickory Seniors Morning Out is located at the Senior Citizens Center at 400 17th St. SW in Hickory. It is a program of Catawba County's Senior Nutrition Services, a division of Catawba County Social Services.

There are five Seniors Morning Out locations in the county. They operate five mornings a week, except for holidays. These programs offer a variety of activities, including musical concerts, shopping trips, health checks, bingo and other games, cooking demonstrations and informational programs about community resources. A balanced meal is also served. This program is free, although donations are accepted. There are no income limits for this program; everyone who is at least 60 years old is welcome. You may attend as often or as little as you wish.

Seniors Morning Out is also in need of volunteers willing to present a program or just serve others. For more information about Seniors Morning Out and related programs, call 828-695-5610 or go to
