GKN Driveline Hosts Golf Tournament for Children's Advocacy and Protection Center

NEWTON -- GKN Driveline of Newton raised $12,000 for the Children's Advocacy and Protection Center at a recent golf tournament.

Approximately 100 employees and associates of the company were involved in organizing the event, held Sept. 21 at Glen Oaks golf course in Maiden. Angela Enderson of the company's Pay It Forward Committee said GKN recognizes the importance of helping the local community. Rather than simply donating, GKN Driveline provides an opportunity for employees to increase their awareness of community needs and lend their support.

The center has recently lost a substantial grant due to federal budget cuts. On behalf of the hundreds of children in Catawba County who receive crucial services at the Children's Advocacy and Protection Center, local GKN Driveline employees in Newton wanted to do their part to ensure that abused children receive the help that they need. Hickory Police Chief Tom Adkins, CAPC Director Deb Johnson, Angela Enderson of GKN Driveline, and Newton Police Chief Don Brown enjoy the recent golf tournament that raised $12,000 for the Children's Advocacy and Protection Center in Conover.
