Can you help the dispatcher find the house?

When people call the police, they have seen or heard something. Dispatchers need you to be their eyes and ears because they cannot see or hear what has happened and you have.

If you see smoke or flames coming from a building, you should call 9-1-1 immediately.

When you call, tell the dispatcher what you see. If you see smoke, tell them what color the smoke is. This is very important and the dispatcher will tell the firemen.

Can you help the fire engine find the house that is on fire?

If you see cars that are in an accident, it is important to tell the dispatcher what color the cars are.

This helps the police officer find them. It is also helpful to know if anyone is hurt. If you do not know if anyone is hurt, it's OK. Do not try to find out. We don't want you to get hurt either.

Do you know your colors? Can you write down the color of each of these balls?

The police can help people. Dispatchers send the police out to help.

Dispatchers know how to calm people down and get answers to the many questions they ask.

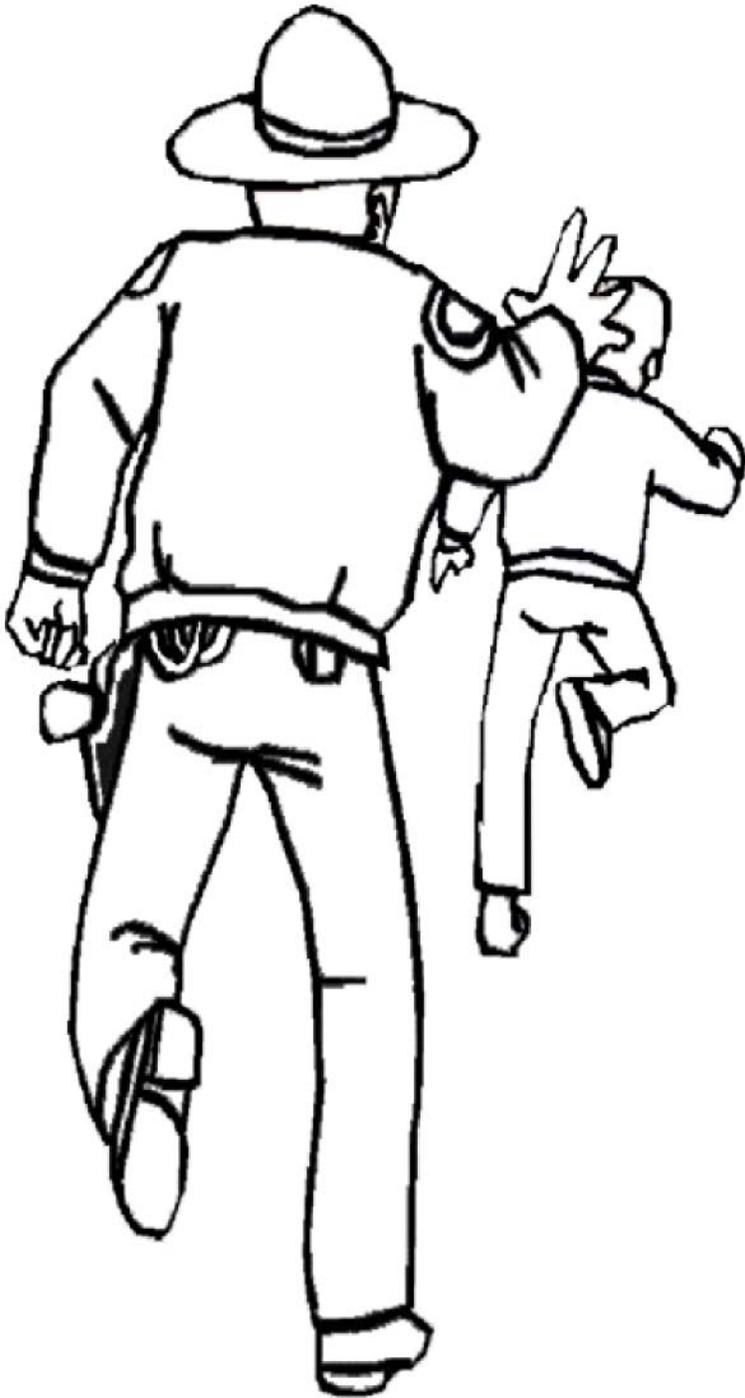

Some people like to play jokes.
Some jokes are funny. Some are not. You should never play a joke that would hurt someone.

Bad people can be on the computer too. You should never talk to someone on the computer that you do not know. If they say bad things, you should tell an adult or call the police.

Even little kids might need help from the police. Dispatchers like to help kids most of all. Helping children makes them feel good. So they will always send someone to help them.

This boy is running from the police. You should never run from the police. It just makes them mad and they get the dispatcher to send more police. You cannot outrun their radios.

Can you help the policeman find this bad guy?

When people are hurt, they can call 9-1-1 and the dispatcher will send the paramedics. Paramedics will help people who are sick or hurt get to a hospital.

The dispatcher sent this paramedic to help a little boy who was hurt on his bicycle. His friend ran to call 9-1-1 to get him help and then the paramedic came.

Dispatchers think everyone should know how to call 9-1-1.

This man is trying to save a life. That is what the police, firemen, paramedics and even the dispatchers try to do. You may be able to save a life some day. But if you don't know how a dispatcher can help you.

Can you help the paramedics find the sick boy?

Police are everywhere. You can find them in any city, town, or on the highway. Even the North Pole has police officers. They don't really give tickets to penguins. They don't give tickets to Santa Claus either.

Christmas is a busy time for public safety workers, such as the police, fire, paramedics, and dispatchers. They work to keep people safe even on the holidays. We want everyone to be safe on the Holidays.

You should always think before you act, that way you won't do anything bad. When you think about it, you should ask yourself, will this get me in trouble if I do it? If the answer is YES, then you should not do it.

This is a Super Hero. If you call 9-1-1 to help people in an emergency, you can be a Super Hero. Many kids have called 9-1-1 to help someone and get to be on TV because they are a super hero.

Calling 9-1-1 when you need help is right on target!
