

The Catawba Science Center (CSC) in Hickory will host a program in conjunction with its Flutter-By Butterfly Habitat, featuring hundreds of live native and semi-tropical butterflies and moths in an outdoor garden.

Join CSC Naturalist Bruce Beerbower for a night time adventure and field trip to Riverbend Park on Tuesday, June 22 from 7:30 until 10 p.m.

Catawba County park rangers will use special attractants to lure nocturnal residents and other seldom seen park residents during a moth club meeting. Last season, more than 70 different species of moths were discovered.

Cost is just $3 for CSC members and $6 for nonmembers and covers van transportation to the park. Space is limited and pre-registration is required. Call (828) 322-8169 to reserve your space today.

Visit www.CatawbaScience.org for more information about Flutter-By and upcoming butterfly lunches, exhibits, planetarium shows, summer camps and preschool science programs.