LESLIE CAMPBELL HONORED AS CATAWBA COUNTY PUBLIC HEALTH EMPLOYEE OF THE YEAR

HICKORY, NC – Leslie Campbell, Administrative Assistant II, was named 2014 Catawba County Public Health Employee of the Year.

Campbell, a Public Health employee of more than 20 years, oversees Public Health’s Medical Records division. This year she also assumed duties in the Vital Records area, where she handles procedures related to birth and death certificates. In addition, Campbell supervises the agency’s translators and ensures they are available to assist non-English-speaking clients and translate outreach materials.

As stated in her nomination, “Leslie has worked in several areas over her years at Public Health, and with each new challenge she has demonstrated that she has the ability to take a task and get it done more efficiently. One of her strongest talents is the ability to look at the big picture and see how a slight change in a procedure could greatly improve services provided at Public Health... The energy and enthusiasm with which she approaches every task is remarkable.”

“Leslie is a true team player who consistently gives one hundred percent to her clients and colleagues,” said Doug Urland, director, Catawba County Public Health. “By approaching her work with commitment, compassion, and outstanding customer service, Leslie sets a wonderful example for all of us and is very deserving of this recognition.”

In addition to Campbell, Darlene Burgess, a care manager with Public Health’s Care Coordination for Children program, was nominated for Employee of the Year.

The Catawba County Public Health Employee of the Year award recognizes employees who consistently go above and beyond what is expected and display exceptional merit on a consistent, long-term basis or who have, through work on a single project or an act of exceptional performance, increased department productivity or efficiency, realized significant cost savings, resolved a significant problem, or increased morale and motivation of employees. Individuals are nominated by their peers.

Catawba County Public Health, located off Fairgrove Church Road behind Catawba Valley Medical Center in Hickory, N.C., works to protect and promote the health of all county residents. For more information, please call (828) 695-5800 or visit www.catawbacountync.gov/phealth.
