

Contact: Tammy Wilson, Public Information Officer

828-465-8661, twilson@catawbacountync.gov

Organization: Catawba County Library System, Newton, NC

828-465-8664 www.catawbacountync.gov/library

For Immediate Release:

---

Library offers Freeze local history, other program videos online

Newton, NC, Nov. 11, 2014:

If you missed any of the Gary Freeze local history programs at Catawba County Library this fall, you may be in luck. These programs are being captured on videotape and shared through the library website, and are available for viewing free at <http://www.catawbacountync.gov/library>.

On the main page is Freeze's discussion of I-40 and local highways on Sept. 30. An earlier lecture by Gary Freeze, "Ebony and Ivory: From Segregation to Integration in Catawba County" given on Aug. 26 may be seen on the library's local history and genealogy page. Freeze's upcoming programs will also be videotaped and posted online.

Additionally, the standing-room-only program "Witness to the Holocaust" given by holocaust survivor Walter Ziffer on Oct. 16 may be viewed on the library main webpage. Ziffer appeared as a Road Scholar with the N.C. Humanities Council.

Video coverage of the opening of the Sherrills Ford-Terrell Branch on Sept. 29 may be viewed there as well.

Catawba County Library System is headquartered at 115 W. C Street in Newton and houses the Rhodes Local History Room on the ground floor.

###

About: The Catawba County Library System, headquartered in Newton, NC, serves the citizens of Catawba County with seven branches throughout the county and is a year-round, integral provider of early literacy and lifelong learning. In addition to traditional services, the system provides a full complement of computer and digital services, classes and support to bridge the digital divide, empower job seekers, and enhance community quality of life and economic health.

