Make 2019 the Best Yet

LOOK TO THE LIBRARY FOR SUPPORT

MAKE A FRESH START: Food for Fines

The Catawba County Library believes that lifelong learning should be accessible to everyone, and we create welcoming environments to ensure that every county resident is at ease in our branches. To help raise the level of comfort, we're bringing back our Food for Fines forgiveness program, effective January 7-19, 2019.

In partnership with the Hickory Public Library, we're inviting patrons to pay their library-related fines with non-perishable goods. (The exchange rate is one food item for each dollar in fines that is owed.) Fines will be waived on any overdue materials that a patron returns, no matter how long the materials have been out. The exception: Donated food cannot be used to pay for lost or damaged items.

Our primary hope is to gather plenty of nutrient-rich foods that promote healthy living for both adults and children, a goal that comes through the Catawba County Health Partners' Give Healthy Initiative.

Acceptable donations should fall within the expiration date indicated on the packaging. Ideal choices include canned meats, soups, canned vegetables and fruits, boxed cereals, grits, dried beans, rice, pasta, pasta sauce, baby food, Jell-O, jams, and small bags of flour or sugar. Ready-to-eat items and individual servings in pop-top cans are also desirable, along with items that don't require refrigeration or cooking, like peanut butter, crackers, and single-serve fruit cups.

Patrons who don't currently have overdue materials are also encouraged to participate in our food collection efforts, which will help local food pantries build up their stocks for our neighbors in need.

If you have any questions about the Food for Fines program, please call 828.465.8664.

DIG DEEP: Build Your Gardening Confidence

Catawba County has strong agricultural traditions, and many residents are eager to learn more about growing their own produce and beautifying the landscape.

One of the Library's most popular annual programs has been the Advanced Gardener series, and we're thrilled to be hosting the workshops for another year. Coordinated by Dr. George Place, director of the Catawba County Cooperative Extension, the informative classes impart a wealth of practical tips backed up by science-based research.

The presentations are free and open to the public. People can attend the programs that most interest them, or they can complete the series to gain program certification. Two different certification tracks are available this year: 1) The Advanced Gardener one requires attendance at 9 of the classes and 20 hours of service and learning, while 2) the Master Gardener one requires attendance at all 11 seminars, plus specific hours of education, community service, and exams, along with a project and a fee of $100.

The gardening series meets at Patrick Beaver Library in Hickory on the second Thursday of each month (6-7 pm), the Main Library in Newton on the third Tuesday of each month (6-7 pm), and the Maiden Branch Library on the fourth Tuesday of each month (6:30-7:30 pm).

The 2019 series includes topics focused on fire ants, mushrooms, pruning, organic gardening, seed saving, food preservation, and much more. For details, contact the Extension office at 828.465.8240 or the Library at 828.465.8664.

UnBook Club for Non-JoinersWednesday, January 9 at 4 pm*

Finally, a book club for people who don't want to read what everyone else is reading, don't want to make a commitment each month, and who definitely want food and drink options. Come to this meeting to tell others about the books you've been reading and possibly get reading suggestions from others. UnBook Club meets on the second Wednesday of the month at Blue Moon Tavern in downtown Newton.

Lock Your MedsThursday, January 10 at 5:30 pm (in English)Thursday, January 17 at 5:30 pm (en español)*

A community-wide approach is needed to solve the opiate crisis, and this program is key. Be part of the solution by finding out how and why to keep certain legitimate prescriptions safely locked away and by learning what to do with leftover pills to prevent them from falling into the wrong hands. Several lockboxes and cabinet locks will be given away. An Operation Medication Dropbox will also be available for disposal of old or leftover medicines – no questions asked.

Excel: Formulas and FunctionsThursday, January 11 at 11 am*

Learn to create basic formulas or use already created functions to add numbers together, calculate a mortgage payment, or search for variables. Basic Excel skills required.

Southern Pens Book ClubSaturday, January 12 at 10 am*

This month's read is Hillbilly Elegy: A Memoir of a Family and a Culture in Crisis by J.D. Vance. February's selection will be Killers of the Flower Moon: The Osage Murders and the Birth of the FBI by David Grann.

Meet LibbyMonday, January 14 at 11 am*

Libby is a free, user-friendly way to find 1000s of eBooks and audiobooks through the NC Digital Library. Learn to download the app, sign in, and download a title or two. Bring your own tablet or phone so we can help set it up and have you ready to go by the time you leave.

Eating “-Free” Throughout the YearTuesday, January 15 at 4 pm*

Wellness dietician Renee Greene will make life easier for anyone with dietary restrictions and those who cook for them. Whether you need guidance for gluten-free, dairy-free, or limited-sugar meals, Renee will share tips and tricks to help get you through celebrations and special occasions year-round. Please call 828.465.8665 to register; space is limited. One lucky attendee will win a grocery store gift card!

Advanced Gardener: Pruning, Planting, and Management for Trees and ShrubsTuesday, January 15 at 6 pm (new start time!)*

Join Dr. George Place, Catawba County Cooperative Extension Director, to learn about pruning, planting, and managing trees and shrubs. From hydrangeas to blueberries, appropriate management is something that everyone can do to improve the health of their landscape and fruit-producing plants.

Coding Basics: Level 1Wednesday, January 16 at 11 am*

This class explores the basic concepts of coding. Participants will learn how computers use code, how to identify basic coding terms, and what types of coding languages are used and for what purposes.

Set a SMART ResolutionWednesday, January 16 at 3 pm*

Learn how to set a SMART resolution for 2019, one that has built-in features that lead to greater success. Please call 828.465.8665 to register; space is limited. One lucky attendee will win a grocery store gift card!

Adult STEAM: Acid DyesThursday, January 17 at 5:30 pm*

Did you know that brightly-colored Kool-Aid can be used as an acid dye on wool yarn? Join us to discover the wide range of colors that can be created using this inexpensive product, and learn about the chemical process that occurs with acid dyes. You'll be surprised by the results! Yarn will be provided. Please call 828.465.8665 to register; space is limited to 10.

Piece of Cake Book ClubTuesday, January 22 at 3 pm*

Want to read ten great books per year? PoCBC meets on the fourth Tuesday of each month at the Whisk & Barrel in downtown Newton. January's selection is Cruise Confidential: A Hit Below the Water Line by Brian Bruns. February's pick is A Confederacy of Dunces by John Kennedy Toole.

Coding Basics: Level 2Wednesday, January 23 at 11 am*

This class continues to explore basic coding concepts. Participants will learn how computers use code, how to identify basic coding terms, and what types of coding languages are used and for what purposes. They'll also get familiar with basic structures that would be used in any coding language by using Python as a template.

3-D BasicsThursday, January 24 at 4 pm*

Learn the foundations of 3-D printing: what it is, how it works, and where you can find resources to get, create, and share 3-D printable files.

Yoga for Healthy ChakrasSaturday, January 26 at 10 am*

Instructors from Breathe Yoga and Wellness in Morganton will share insights about how the practice of yoga supports balance, wellness, and healthy chakras. Chakras are energy centers of the body that affect us in physical, mental, and emotional ways, very much the bridge between body and mind.

Tinkercad 101Tuesday, January 29 at 4 pm*

Learn to create 3-D files using Tinkercad, a free online computer-aided design (CAD) software. Participants will produce a simple object using geometric shapes and letters that can be printed using the 3-D printer.

Dreamland Community Read Series

In cooperation with CVCC's community-wide read of Sam Quinones' critically acclaimed Dreamland: The True Tale of America's Opiate Epidemic, the Library is presenting community-focused programs to inform members and help them make use of available resources.

The Biochemistry of AddictionWednesday, January 30 at 12 noon*

This event addresses changes to the body brought on by opiates and why these changes make addiction such a pervasive problem. The program takes place in CVCC's East Wing Auditorium.

Market Research with NC LiveThursday, January 31 at 12 noon*

Are you interested in finding free resources to help you learn more about your small business, market your business, or even find information about your competitors? Join us to discover what's available through NC Live, an online resource that offers access to high-quality digital content.
